

Resources/ Links

[orgs not yet contacted]

Annenberg Institute for School Reform

<http://www.annenberginstitute.org/>

The Annenberg Institute for School Reform at Brown University develops, shares and acts on knowledge that improves the conditions and outcomes of schooling in America, especially in urban communities and in schools serving disadvantaged children.

BayCES

Californians for Justice (CFJ)

<http://www.caljustice.org/>

Californians for Justice works on statewide public policy campaigns with an emphasis on public education, incarceration, and income. CFJ brings together people of color, young people, and poor people by leading large-scale community education efforts, training grassroots civil rights leaders, and mobilizing public support for major public policy change in California.

Coleman Advocates for Children and Youth.

www.colemanadvocates.org

Coleman is a local child advocacy organization working to improve the well-being of San Francisco's children, youth and their families. Coleman combines policy expertise and savvy advocacy, with grassroots organizing and coalition building in San Francisco neighborhoods.

DataCenter

<http://www.datacenter.org/>

DataCenter provides social justice advocates access to strategic information, analysis, and research skills that will help them conduct more effective campaigns.

KidsFirst

<http://www.kidsfirstoakland.org/>

Kids First works to create opportunities for Oakland youth to become visionary leaders capable of transforming our schools and communities — through advocacy, alliance building, creative arts, and leadership training.

Leadership Excellence

<http://www.leadershipexcellence.org/>

Leadership Excellence provides grassroots community organizing and leadership skills to African American children and youth (ages 5 to 18) through workshops, trainings, and curriculum.

SoundOut.org/Freechild project.

Oakland Community Organizations (OCO)

<http://www.oaklandcommunity.org/>

OCO works to organize the people of Oakland into a powerful force for social change. through uniting people across diverse communities in order to collectively improve the quality of life for families, especially those in greatest need.

UCLA/IDEA: Institute for Democracy, Education, & Access

<http://www.idea.gseis.ucla.edu/index.html>

IDEA's works to make high quality public schooling and successful college participation routine occurrence in low income neighborhoods of color. Research and advocacy are the tools IDEA uses to empower individuals, build relationships, and create knowledge for civic participation and social change.

Youth Together

<http://www.youthtogether.net/>

Youth Together addresses the root causes of educational inequities by developing multiracial youth organizers and engaging school community allies to promote positive school change.